Cameron, Cults, invited a select party to luncheon, which was most admirably served by Mr George Grant of the "Richmond Arms." The party immediately afterwards proceeded to the hall, with many others of the plumed and jewelled beauties of the day, when dancing was continued for several hours with splendeur ti joie.

Among the ladies present we observed Miss Cowper of Achriachan, Miss B. Bennet of Desky, Miss Isabella Grant of Croughly, Miss Gordon of Lettoch, Miss M'Donald of Tomintoul, &c., &c.

We understand there was a subscription ball in the evening, which was attended by the competitors, and an innumerable multitude of Highland lads and lasses, who enjoyed themselves till day-break, dancing their favourite reels and Highland dances.

GLENBUCKET GAMES.

GLENBUCKET, Sept. 3.—On Friday the 29th ult., the Glenbucket Games came off at the usual place. The early part of the day was very inauspicious for the occasion; yet, taking into account the smallness of the parish and the absence of any gentlemen of a patriotic spirit to take the lead, the Gathering was throughout a spirited affair, and the games were well contested. Messrs Hall, excise-officer, Glenkindy, and Ogg, Baltimore, acted as judges—whose decision gave ample satisfaction, and was as follows:—

GREAT NORTH RAILWAY.—The extension of this railway to Keith makes rapid progress towards completion; and the advance made during the last few weeks is quite astonishing. On Saturday last, an engine from Huntly went over the line as far as Haughs of Grange, where there were still about 700 yards of rail to lay. Our Rothiemay correspondent, writing on Saturday, says—"We left home this afternoon a little past one, in company of a few friends, to witness the iron horse cross the Deveron for the first time. We had not long to wait after reaching the station, for within ten minutes past two, engine No. 10, driven by Mr Ruthven, superintendent of locomotives, made its appearance. On stopping at the station, the party on the engine were received with a hearty round of cheers. Among them we observed Sir James Dalrymple Elphinstone; Chairman of the Company; Mr Milne, Scoretary; Mr Gibb, Engineer; Mr Crabbe, Superintendent of Works; Mr Walker, Traffic Manager; Mr Dean, Contractor, &c. After stopping a few minutes and receiving an acquisition to its passengers in the persons of Messrs Thorburn and Erskine, the engine left at a quarter past two, and proceeded as far as the line is open —about 2½ miles westward, where a part of Mr Munroe's section is still unfinished. On their return to the station, the party partook of some refreshment from the hands of Mr Roy, Avochie, and after inspecting at the south end of the bridge, the proposed site for a foot-path across the Deveron, left for Huntly amid the hearty cheers of the assembly's Endowment Scheme, and prospective to the erection of Portsoy (Chapel and district into a parish.
